

Do not erase your "marking" except when it is incorrect.

-Perform perpendicular bisection on each side of the triangle below. Locate the concurrent point.

-And then, use the shadow of this triangle at the back of this page to construct the triangle again and perform angle bisection on each angle. Locate the concurrent point.

